

Way of Thinking

graph BT; WOT[Way of Thinking] --- M[Methodology]; M --- WOM[Way of Modelling]; M --- WOW[Way of Working]; WO[Way of Organising] --> WOM; WS[Way of Supporting] --> WOW;
```

The diagram is a hierarchical structure. At the top is a large light gray rectangle labeled 'Way of Thinking'. Inside this rectangle is a smaller light gray rectangle labeled 'Methodology'. Inside the 'Methodology' rectangle are two white rectangles: 'Way of Modelling' on the left and 'Way of Working' on the right. Below the 'Way of Thinking' rectangle, outside the 'Methodology' rectangle, are two white rectangles: 'Way of Organising' on the left and 'Way of Supporting' on the right. An upward-pointing arrow connects 'Way of Organising' to 'Way of Modelling', and another upward-pointing arrow connects 'Way of Supporting' to 'Way of Working'.
